

Carer's Assessment, Provision and Services: Law and Practice

A Michael Mandelstam Course

Venue: Sintons LLP, The Cube, Barrack Road, Newcastle upon Tyne, NE4 6DB

Date: 9th November 2017, 9:30am - 4pm
(Registration and coffee 9am)

Cost: £110 plus VAT (refreshments and lunch included)

About the course:

This course sets out the key legal rules under the Care Act 2014 about informal carers (e.g. family, friends, neighbours etc.) when they care for adults with care and support needs.

This course covers carers' enhanced rights, the legal pitfalls that local authorities should avoid and how local authorities can be challenged.

This is an inter-active, fully participative course which illustrates the law, with case studies based on legal cases and local ombudsman investigations of complaints.

About the trainer:

Michael Mandelstam worked previously at the Disabled Living Foundation and the Department of Health within the Social Services Inspectorate. He now works independently, providing legal training to local authorities and NHS bodies on community care law, law for occupational therapists, equipment, home adaptations, manual handling, risk assessment and safeguarding adults.

He has written a number of widely used books, including: How We Treat The Sick: Neglect And Abuse In Our Health Services (2011), Community Care Practice and the Law (4th edition 2008), Safeguarding Vulnerable Adults and the Law(2008), Occupational Therapy Law and Good Practice (for the College of Occupational Therapists 2005) and Manual Handling in Health and Social Care: Law and Practice (2002).
